Dear Mr. Vanderschelde,

Thank you very much for informing me about the conclusion of the full meeting in Dublin. As far as your proposal is concerned to discuss certain issues I believe that at present this will be premature as it is not yet clear what decision the national governments will take regarding the institutional framework for the future economic and monetary union. After such a political decision has been taken a discussion on the proposed issues may, indeed, be advisable.

With best regards

Karl Otto Pöhl
